

RAIN OR SHINE, JACKASS MAIL WILL GO THROUGH

READY TO go is the official Jackass Mail team - Bell and Tudor - shown with Head Teamster Domer F. Power, following a conditioning trip preparatory to Saturday's Mail run. Power is working the mares daily, and Hank McEwen, at the Porterville Horseshoeing school, has fixed them up with handmade shoes. "Just pass the oats," the horses are quoted as saying. "We're ready." (Farm Tribune photo)

Frontiersmen And Drugstore Dudes Hit The 190 Trail Saturday Morning

PORTERVILLE - Jackass Mail will roll out of Porterville, bound for Springville, come 8 a.m., next Saturday, April 1, as fearless frontiersmen and drugstore dudes get aboard their ponies and ride for the hills up the 190 trail.

Cowboys and cowgals from everywhere are invited to tag along - on their own horses and at their own risk and volition; assembly point for the sixth annual mail run is the Porterville city hall.

Wagon Master for the run is Bill Rodgers, who states that fun will be the order of the day as horse-drawn vehicles and riders move up the trail just as they did in the good old days - or almost like the old days.

Lunch stop is planned for the open spaces immediately east of the River Island Golf course, where Tulare County Cow Belles will serve barbecued beef and beans at $1.50 a plate for adults, 75 cents for children.

When the mail rolls into Springville, about 5:30 p.m., a fish fry will get under way, prepared by the Springville chamber of commerce; charge is $1.50 per plate.

Persons unable to stand the rigors of the trail are invited to travel by horseless carriage and join up with the mail train for lunch, and for the fish fry.

Official Jackass Mail will be carried on a mail wagon, driven by Domer F. Power, head teamster for the run. Stamps, at four bits each, can be purchased at the Porterville chamber of commerce or at various emporiums in Springville and Porterville.

WAGON MASTER for the sixth running of the Jackass Mail, Saturday, is Bill Rodgers, eminently eminent frontiersman and the unquestioned victor over the Mountain Lion Myna bird for the wagon master post.

Senator Way To Ride With Jackass Mail

SACRAMENTO - State Senator Howard Way, in a wireless message from Sacramento, said today that he plans to ride with the Jackass Mail, April 1.

The Senator said he hoped to be able to join the mail as it pulled out of Porterville and ride at least part of the way; he also plans to participate in the noon lunch that will be served by the Tulare County Cow Belles.

With the Senator will be his administrative assistant in Sacramento, Dave Swoap; his district coordinator, Joe Doctor, from Exeter; and possibly a representative from the state personnel board.

CONTROL YOUR HORSES AT ALL TIMES, PLEASE

PORTERVILLE - Come rain or shine, the mail will go through, the Jackass Mail, that is, on Saturday, April 1, and while all cowboys and cowgals participating in the mail run are invited to have fun, certain courtesies of the trail are called to attention.

Wagon Master Bill Rodgers asks that all riders remain behind the wagons, that they use only the right side of the highway in order that regular traffic can move, and that horses be kept under control at all times.

Representatives of the Humane society will travel with the Jackass Mail - as they do with most trail rides in the state of California. Their mission is only to see that horses are not abused.

Humane society officials recommend that horses be shod, or that at least their

THESE SIGNS should say this.

AS FOR the other four candidates who seek two seats on the Porterville city council in next Tuesday's election, we will cast our ballot for Jim Hanson and Dick Spencer.

THIS DOES not mean that we hold any personal feeling against Gilbert Ynigues or Pete Ferguson.

ON THE contrary, we have high personal regard for Ynigues, and we've been a friend of Ferguson's since back in our days at Porterville High school.

CERTAINLY, BOTH, in their fields of public activities, have contributed considerably to the general

Bands, floats, riding groups, baton twirlers and horseless carriages will be featured in the April 8 Rodeo parade, with Marlin leading the colorful procession through the Springville business district that he first saw more than 40 years ago when he came to the mountain community, rented a small house and worked on various ranches

Action Promised In Canterbelle Horse Show At Rocky Hill Sunday

PORTERVILLE - Entries are beginning to pour in for the seventh annual Porterville Canterbelle horse show to be held this Sunday at the Rocky Hill arena.

For the first time in the history of the event, the show is listed by the California State Horsemen's association as an approved junior point show, which means that points earned in the show will be used to help determine state champions later this year.

There are 15 horse show and nine gymkhana events with most events divided into classes for those 13 years and under and for riders 14 years and older. Open classes include trail horse, showmanship on halter, bareback horsemanship, stock horse and matched pairs, and key hole in gymkhana.

Ralph Carter is the judge for the horse show events with Clovis Vest as ring steward. Kyle Hill is show chairman.

Post entries at $3 per class will be accepted on the grounds. Trophies are

BOYD ACCUSED OF FRAUD IN COMPLAINT

A complaint charging breach of contract and fraud and seeking a total of $2,100 in damages plus court costs has been filed in Visalia Municipal court against Ross H. Boyd of Porterville.

Atty. N.O. Bradley of Visalia filed the action March 14 on behalf of Robert G. and Frances Watson of Los Angeles who have purchased the Village Shopping Center from Boyd.

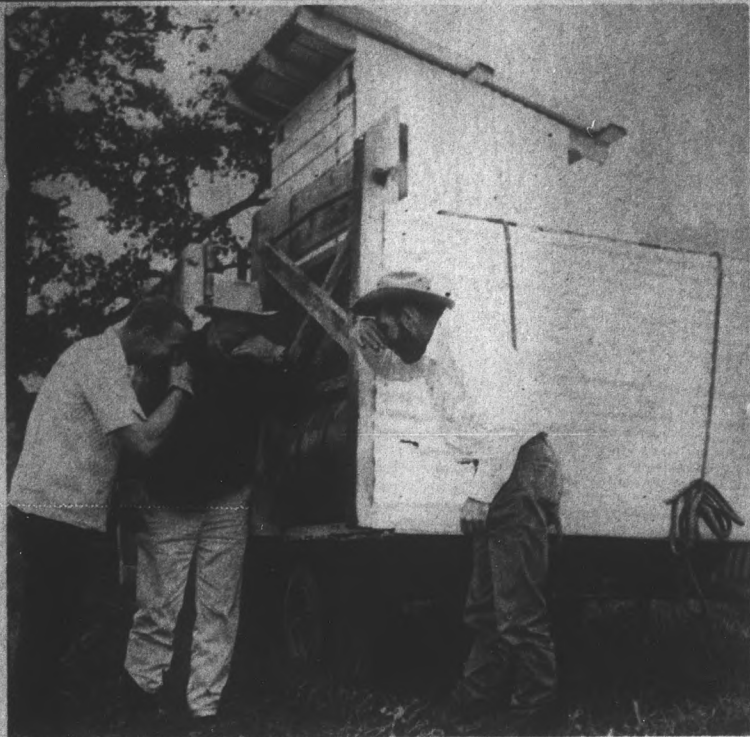

The complaint alleges that in an Aug. 16, 1966, sales agreement Boyd signed a statement that no security rentals had been paid to him on any of the shopping center business leases.

FRANK HILL RECALLS OLD 4-H DAYS IN TALK AT PRAIRIE CENTER MEETING

PRAIRIE CENTER—Frank Hill recalled "the old days" in Tulare county 4-H club work when he spoke at the March meeting of the Prairie Center 4-H club, stating that he joined Prairie Center 4-H himself in 1925.

Hill is a Strathmore rancher; he is member of the executive committee and a past president of the Friant Water Users association; he is president of the East Side Project association; and president of the California Reclamation association.

He recalled that when he joined the 4-H club, the 4-H fair was held at Poplar, with five clubs in the surrounding area participating. He said that about the only projects were livestock and poultry, and that he took his first train ride when he won a trip to Davis in a project book contest.

Farm advisor during Hill's days in 4-H was Mark Lindsay; Hill's parents were among the first club leaders; he recalled that Prairie Center competed against Rockford, Burton and Pleasant View.

Hill said that in 4-H he learned self respect, cooperation, and a sense of responsibility. He emphasized responsibility as involving the completion of projects, the keeping of proper record books, and attendance at meetings.

"When my generation is gone, there will have to be people to lead," Hill said. "4-Hers are the kind of people who will be those leaders."

The Army team visiting the local campus is one of 22, touring colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Hill said that through the 4-H program he got a philosophy to live by: "Leave the world in as good or better conditions than that in which we found it."

Project reports were given by John Hefner, Diane Della, Charollett McCowan, Vickie VanHooser, Linda Della, Matt Meik, and Karen Wilcox. Program Chairman Gail Ward led games following the meeting.

Foreign Labor Pay Differential Protested By California Farmers

SAN FRANCISCO — California and Florida farmers compete vigorously with each other in the major fruit and vegetable markets of the nation.

Why, therefore, asks the Council of California Growers, should Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz force California farmers to pay their workers more than Florida farmers must pay, if they wish to remain eligible for foreign workers?

Secretary Wirtz fixed the minimum at $1.60 per hour in California as compared with $1.35 per hour in Florida.

With the exception of Connecticut, the secretary set lower minimums in all other states than in California.

"Simple justice should persuade the Secretary to set the same minimum for all states, so that the growers in one state would not have a competitive advantage over those in another," said Council Executive Vice President O. W. Fillerup.

As for the need for braceros in California this year, Fillerup had this to say:

"There is always the potential need for large numbers of supplementary workers because of the variables in farming. Weather often is the determinant. Sometimes, for welfare of the Porterville community.

BUT WE feel, on the basis of statements made at public meetings, that Ynigues, at this point, lacks the background and knowledge of city business that it is desirable an incoming councilman have.

AND WE believe that Ferguson, holding the public job that he does, is not in a position to fully accept the responsibilities that go with both jobs.

AS FOR Hanson, we know from our personal associations with him that he has worked hard in whatever private or community enterprise he has undertaken, that he has the ability to size up a situation and come to a logical and thoughtful conclusion, and that he has an honest concern for people. These attributes, we believe, are important in a city councilman.

AS FOR Spencer, he has had experience in the field of city government. We have not always agreed with him - in fact on occasions we have voted against him on specific issues, but we have been able to appreciate his logic. Through his associations with a number of community enterprises, he most certainly has a good grasp of community affairs.

IN GENERAL, our thinking in regard to the functions and responsibilities of government ties in quite closely with both Hanson and Spencer.

SO WITHOUT inferring or intending anything of a derogatory nature toward Ferguson or Ynigues, we feel that at this time, and with the choice available, our vote must go for Hanson and Spencer.

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

Easter Vacation is over. OUR TOWN is back in the groove. The schoolbusses are running again, and mothers are starting to breathe again. The college students came home for their vacations and are now back to the business of learning and hanky panky. Many citizens of OUR TOWN left for the beaches or snow, and we had guests who came here for their vacation. They came here to shop. They think this is the best place. They like to walk up and down Main Street going in and out of the stores. In their town they have to walk too far. They like it here better.

The Cow Palace is empty of people and animals once again. Going up to the Big City and showing off their animals is always a treat for the youngsters. The lucky mothers get to stay with the animals and their owners at the Palace, but the poor fathers have to suffer at the Jack Tar. What a dirty shame. Here the mothers have all the fun, and the fathers are stuck with trips to North Beach and the "Go" generation and they have to put up with the hardships of the big Hotel. Thinking every minute.

The Jackasses are bearding up for their annual excuse for a good time. One of the best parts of the whole thing is the picnic they have half way up to Springville. If you aren't horsey yourself it is fun to drive up and watch the activities. All over the nice green grass are happy circles of people having lunch and liquid goodies. The horses are tied near by, and children are running all over the place. I was most impressed last year with the way the people policed the area before they left. You wouldn't have known so many people had been there for lunch.

My favorite Junior from the High School called in for his weekly report. He certainly is observant for a male. Pat Tomlinson bought a huge card and had everyone sign it for Diane Howell. Diane has been ill and Pat was thoughtful enough to see that she had a card from all her friends. My faith in the younger generation is rapidly being restored.

Even the teachers at the High School got into the act St. Patrick Day. The happy Irishman, Alex Mock, came to school with a tie that nearly put your eye out. Wild. The students thought it was great.

Happiness is being wagon master for the Jackass Mail Run. He finally made it.

Sunkist Office Being Planned At Lindsay

COOL IT DADDY OR WE'RE GONNA THROW A TANTRUM

There have been several billion words written on the subject, but it is a topic that I have thought a lot about during the past few years. I mean, what about this generation of America's youth that seems to be going its own way and the rest of us better cool it?

You read in the magazines about the "generation gap." This cat who looks and dresses like Buffalo Bill tells us, "You don't know us. We're the Bomb Babies. We had Strontium 90 in our milk. We grew up knowing that every day's Mickey Mouse Club might be our last. Like instant ashes." And there is a generation gap. No one can deny it. We don't know these people very well. We are trying to understand them, but it is difficult to like and understand people who reject the principles and morals that made our country the greatest in the world.

Dr. Whatzeface, the prominent sociologist, is going to take a long look at this generation (he probably already has) and with a great dramatic gesture say, "This is an extraordinary generation. They are bomb oriented. They grew up in a world of crisis. Berlin, Suez, Lebanon, Korea, Cuba, the Kennedy assassination, all of these things brought tension into their lives and they are a product of a life of tension. For this reason they live for today and they reject the "American way of Life" because it produced their tension-filled background."

Horse s-s-shoes!! Every generation has had its problems. These people of today are simply reliving most of the same old entanglements that have faced the young adult for the past forty or fifty years. Sure, they are perhaps more complex, but maybe not, because death is just as final at the end of a German bayonet as it is by radiation poisoning. The big difference is that this generation is not as well equipped to handle the problems. If you believe the newspapers a good portion of these people aren't facing the problems, they are only trying to escape them.

This is a generation of instant gratification. The age when the student parking lot looks like a new car showroom. Don't sweat it, big daddy will come through with a few coins and all the shadows will go away. And if the coins are a little slow in coming, then we gonna sulk a little. Throw a tantrum. You gonna draft me? I'll throw a tantrum. I mean, I been gettin' my way this way for years, maybe it will work again.

What can you expect from a generation of people who have had everything, instantly, just for the asking? Sure they have had Strontium 90 in their milk, but there have been generations in our history that didn't have milk to have Strontium 90 in. And that just may be the problem.

hooves be trimmed, and that "soft" animals not be over-heated.

They also say they will stop adult double riders, riders who run their horses on pavement, riders who let their animals get out of control, and riders whose horses go lame.

Officers of the Humane society have the power to impound animals in cases of abuse.

Sightseers who do not ride with the Mail, but who bring the kids and drive up the 190 trail to see what's doing, are asked by Highway Patrol officers and County Sheriff officers to keep moving, not to park on or along the highway, and to cooperate in keeping the mail train and traffic moving.

Working with the Jackass Mail committee will be both Highway patrolmen and Deputy Sheriffs to minimize traffic problems.

From Daybell Nursery

By John

This is the world's most ideal growing weather. The corn we planted is sprouting three inches a day which is about one inch a day more than the rabbits chew off. Furthermore the Tiny Tim tomatoes are nearly ripe and the radishes would be but the rabbits removed all the tops from them. We are really honored that Brer Rabbit should consider our feeble garden such a delicacy. There are many acres of lush weeds around but they hop over all this to reach our humble efforts. This in spite of the chemical fertilizers and other unnatural things we treat the garden with.

This is also yam season. We have both yam and sweet potato plants. Therefore don't be sore at us if you come in and ask for sweet potatoes when you really mean yams - and later on find you got just what you asked for. Another confusing item, because it comes in several degrees of hot, is the pepper clan. Bell, banana wax, and long Italian are fairly mild and Anaheim chile is moderately hot. But Jalapeno, floral gem, and Fresno chile will wilt the flowers on your best china. Yet some people consider these barely warm enough.

A limited supply of Avocado trees just arrived from the Southland. There are Zutano, Mexicola, and Duke varieties and when they are gone we will have no more for at least a year. At the rate these are being planted we shall all be knee deep in avocado pits long before the smog gets us. Come soon to "E" Street North of Olive and see these "good things from the good earth."

The mail will close in Porterville at 8 a.m., on April 1.

Official Jackass units of the mail will be the mail wagon, pulled by the Jackass Mail team, Bell and Tudor; the cannon of the Porterville Breakfast Lions Tulare River Battery, pulled by a team of mules from Riata ranch; and a flatbed wagon carrying the Porterville Elks' Lodge band, and pulled also by a Riata ranch team.

Other horse-drawn units will include a wagon driven by Jim Bowling, from Bakersfield; a mule team and wagon from the Larry Gill ranch; a wagon driven by an ex-wagon master, Carroll Simmons, to carry a group of lovely frontier ladies; and possibly a buggy or two.

The Jackass Mail committee is making no seats available on wagons this year; persons who want to ride by wagon should organize their own groups and secure their own wagon.

Horseback riders need not sign up - just show up at the Porterville city hall at 8 a.m., or drop into the Jackass Mail line enroute.

Wagons and riders will move south down Porterville's Main street, pick up supplies at the Mountain Lion saloon, turn east on Orange avenue, continue through Doyle Colony, hit the old railroad right-of-way to Worth bridge, then follow the 190 trail into Springville.

Guide for the mail train will be Tom Masonheimer; chief scout will be Walt Pratt; physician and surgeon for the cannon battery and the mail generally will be Doc Small Duncan; commander of security troops will be Col. Robert C. Natzke, CSA, Ret.; and assistant chief wagon master, Glenn Cole.

The annual mail run is a forerunner of the Springville-Sierra rodeo, set for the following weekend, April 8-9. Many of the Jackass Mail riders will stay in Springville the night of April 1 to attend a coronation ball at the

in the foothills.

Born in Ohio, Marlin came to California in 1923, spent a year at Hanford, then "took a look at Springville" after a friend had told him about the country.

"I guess I never wanted to live any place else in the world after I saw Springville," Marlin says. "Actually, it's not only the beauty of the foothills and the Sierra that I liked, but the people as well."

"Folks live by the adage, 'Help Thy Neighbor' in the Springville country, and there are no better friends and neighbors anywhere," Marlin says.

Back in 1930 Marlin came out of the hills for a time to engage in the poultry business in Porterville, but by 1936 he was back in the Springville area to stay.

In 1938 he acquired the ranch on which he now lives - the Turkey Track ranch in the Milo country just below Mount Dennison. For a number of years he produced and marketed from 8,000 to 10,000 turkeys annually, but with changing economic conditions, he now raises only about 1,500 birds each year, marketing them dressed and packaged, to local families.

In addition, he runs cattle on his foothill ranch, and also has laying hens.

In 1939 Marlin married Hazel Wehrly, who at the time was the bookkeeper for a Porterville car dealer. She had come west from Kansas with her family in the early 1920s; she attended the old Olive street school in Porterville, also Porterville high school, then spent a year at the 4-Cs college in Fresno.

Still parked in their garage on their Milo ranch, and in good running order, is the car in which they took their honeymoon trip back in 1939.

Marlin is a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Masonic Lodge, Farm Bureau, and the Springville chamber of commerce.

"Springville isn't very big geographically," the Marlin's say, "but its good country with fine people. We're real proud to be honored at this year's rodeo, and we hope folks will come up from the valley for the big show, and also to see our beautiful foothills and mountains."

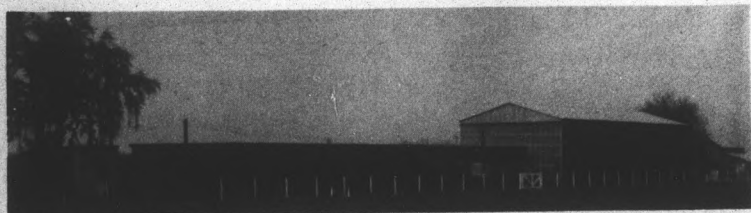

Eggs are the Plentiful-Food-To-Feature in markets of the nation during the week of April 2-8.
